A Proclamation for the Meeting of the Parliament.

JAMES R.

WHereas on the second day of July last, We signified Our Pleasure to both Our Houses of Parliament, that they should be adjourned until the fourth day of August last, and that We did not then intend to make a Session, but that the Session should be carryed on by further Adjournments, by such Members as were about the Town, until the Winter, unless some Emergency happened, which might require their Meeting, in which Case or whensoever We should intend a Session, We declared We would signifie Our farther Pleasure by Our Proclamation. And Whereas on the fourth day of August last, both Our said Houses of Parliament met at Westminster, and according to Our Royal Pleasure then Signified to them, were adjourned until Monday the ninth day of November next, on which day We purposing to meet Our Loving Subjects in Parliament in Order to make a Session; And to the End the Members of both Our Houses of Parliament may not be ignorant of Our Intentions and good Pleasure herein, We do by this Our Proclamation, by and with the Advice of Our Council, Publish and Declare the same; And do hereby Will and Require all and every the Members of both Our Houses of Parliament, unless let and hindred by some Lawful cause, to Assemble and keep their day at Westminster, on Monday the ninth day of November next, according to the said last Adjournment, as they will avoid Our Royal displeasure.

Given at Our Court at Whitehal, the Eleventh Day of October, 1685. In the First Year of Our Reign.

Carelstadt in Croatia, Sept. 22. The 14th instant in the Morning our Governor the Count de Herberstein, marched from hence with the Troops under his Command, to make an Incursion into the Province of Licca; In the Afternoon he came before the Castle of Grebenar, and ordered Colonel Orsich, and Colonel Purstaller to attack the same with the Infantry they Commanded, which they did, and in a short time made themselves Masters of the Outworks, and afterwards set the Castle on Fire, several of the Turks were burnt, many killed, and the rest made Prisoners; From thence our Forces marched to the River Licca, near which they rested all night, and the next Morning continued their march towards Budak, the Chief City of that Province; The Enemy upon our approach burnt all the Houses as well as Forage in the Neighborhood, and put themselves into a posture to defend the place; That day we attackt it with Bombs and Granadoes, but without doing any great Execution; And towards Evening 500 Turkish foot and 300 Horse drawn from the adjacent Garisons, appeared near the Town, whereupon our General sent out Colonel Gall, and Colonel Hoinowich, with the Cavalry under their Command. They passed the River with 600 Horse, and marched towards the Enemy; The Turkish Horse being charged by Colonel Gall, after having stood about half an hour fled, and were soon followed by their foot, of which 150 were killed, and most of the rest taken Prisoners; after which our Troops returned to their Camp with six Colors which they had taken. The 16th the General held a Council of War, where it was resolved not to make any farther attempt upon Budak, but that they should rather do the Enemy all the damage they could by Ravaging the Country; Accordingly our Forces marched from thence the same day, and passing by Novi, Ribnick, and Bellay, advanced to the Castle of Nivi Pernsick, which they attacked and took, putting the Garison to the Sword, except some few to whom they gave Quarter. The 18th they marched back again, and yesterday returned hither with a great deal of Plunder, and 130 Prisoners, besides a great many Families of Valaques, who have put themselves under the Protection of the Emperor. In this Expedition about 30 of our Men were killed and 70 wounded; And of the Enemy above 400 were slain, and 4000 houses burnt.

Vienna, Sept. 30. The Duke de Croy arrived here this afternoon from the Imperial Army, which continues encamped between the Rivers Gran and Ipol, but it's believed the Troops will now in few days be sent to their Winter-Quarters; The Bavarian Cavalry have Orders to march to his Electoral Highnesses Territories, where they are to Winter, but the Infantry will be disposed of in Hungary, Silesia and Moravia; Prince Waldeck is now here to confer with the Imperial Ministers about the Quarters to be assigned the Troops of the Empire, who if they cannot have them in some of the Hereditary Countries, will return home. We have an account that Caschaw has Capitulated; There are now 19 Imperial Regiments in Upper Hungary, under the Command of General Caprara, who its hoped will before they go into their Winter-quarters, reduce all that Country to the Emperors Obedience; Major General Mercy was according to the last Letters from the Imperial Camp, before Agria, and had begun to attack that place with his Cannon and Bombs; The Body he has under his Command is composed of 15 Regiments. Count Teckely's Secretary is still here, and it's believed his Negotiation will not be fruitless. The Count de Magliano Envoy Extraordinary from the Duke of Savoy, to Compliment the Emperor upon the Elector of Bavaria's Marriage with the Arch-Dutchess, parted from hence yesterday on his return home. The Letters from Croatia give an account that the Turks endeavor to reinforce themselves on that side to make head against the Imperial Forces Commanded by General Leslie, and in his absence by the Count de Leuergue; That three Bassa's who had been in the Turkish Army in Hungary, were arrived at Sigeth, with the Troops under their Orders, which were in a very ill condition having suffered very much for want of Provisions and Forage; That the Bassa of Bosnia was
